Prevention and Intervention Activity	The Banking Protocol is an initiative between the police, banking institutions & Trading Standards. Its aim is at the earliest opportunity to identify vulnerable victims who are in the process of being defrauded of funds from their bank accounts by unscrupulous criminals and to intervene to prevent these crimes. The Protocol is designed to provide a standardised method for how these concerns are dealt with and reported to police and to stop multiple victimisation. This protocol commenced nationally and in the Highland region during March 2017. Since then financial institutions have

	embraced this protocol and as a result during the last reporting year Highland and Islands have recorded over £679,000 in prevented loss. This is further complimented by Shut out Scammers - this new campaign is a rebrand of 'Operation Monarda' and primarily focusses on doorstep crime prevention, as well as other scams that have a detrimental impact on householders including mail, telephone and online. Police Scotland Highland and Islands worked closely with a variety of partners including; Trading Standards, Citizens Advice, Neighbourhood Watch Scotland, Crimestoppers, Scottish Fire and Rescue and Victim Support amongst others, in order to maximise opportunities to promote prevention advice across the country and to increase public engagement in the hope of raising awareness of this widely under reported crime. Awareness raising event delivered to public assisted by Nairn Citizens Advice Bureau ATM initiative – Police attended at Sainsburys, Nairn with a mock ATM machine in order to help the public identify warning signs in relation to skimming devices. This role has developed and regular contact has built a good relationship with residential unit(s). This course is being delivered by and offered to staff of the various member organisations of Highland Community Planning Partnership. These include Highland Council, NHS, Fire, Police, Highlands & Islands Enterprise, UHI, Scottish Natural Heritage and Third Sector. Current Scottish Government Policy has an aim to reduce

PRIORITY – Serious & Organised Crime

Serious & Organised Crime	County Lines - when criminals from major cities such as Liverpool, Manchester, London and Birmingham are expanding their drug networks to other areas, bringing with it serious criminal behaviour such as violence, exploitation and abuse. The term County Lines refers to the use of a single telephone number to order drugs, operated from outside the local area. They often set up a base in a rural area for a short time, taking over the home of a vulnerable person by 'cuckooing' and use adults and children to act as drug runners. Preventions and Interventions delivered advisory presentations to Partner agencies including Housing, Social Work and NHS.
Prevention and Intervention Activity	Police Scotland has relaunched an awareness-raising initiative aimed at preventing young people from falling into a life of crime. Working in partnership with the Scottish Government, police have devised an educational pack for young people that shows the devastating effects of Serious Organised Crime. "The Slide" is a specially-created film detailing a young man's downward spiral into criminality from his teenage years into early adult life. After watching each film scene, attendees participate in a range of discussions to promote positive lifestyle choices and discuss the consequences of becoming involved in crime. The vast majority of Highland's youth will never commit a criminal offence, or have any negative engagement with the criminal justice system. However, it is essential that we work closely with our partners to deter young people from making bad decisions, which can seriously impact upon their future. This session was delivered to Nairn Academy pupils.

PRIORITY – Counter Terrorism & Domestic Extremism

Counter Terrorism & Domestic Extremism

WRAP (Workshop to Raise Awareness of Prevent) The workshop covers issues such as crime, normal social processes that are used to influence and manipulate, case studies that cut across the spectrum of extremism, terrorist ideologies and factors which may contribute to an individual's susceptibility to a terrorist ideology.

In particular, it seeks to support them to recognise that using their existing expertise and professional judgement, they may be able to recognise potentially vulnerable individuals who may be susceptible to being persuaded by an extremist or terrorist ideology. Workshops delivered to partners across the Highlands.

ACT Now delivered to schools across the Highlands while CONTEST briefing delivered to staff at Nairn Academy.

Introduction - Mobile Working

Background

From 27 August 2019 Mobile Working will be introduced across Highlands and Islands Division of Police Scotland.

Mobile Working was first introduced in Tayside in June and will be introduced to the rest of Scotland on a phased approach.

Mobile Working means that police officers will be operating mobile devices as part of their operational duties.

You may notice something different about your local police officers' uniform. They will now be in possession of mobile devices which may be secured to their body armour / jackets adjacent to their radio.

This means that officers will be able to use their mobile devices to remotely access police systems which will increase officers' time working with the public and on incidents - or conducting patrols and preventing crime.

Key messages

- From summer 2019, members of the public will see Police Scotland officers using mobile devices as part of their operational duties. This means you may see police officers operating mobile devices in public areas or within police vehicles.
- The addition of mobile devices will mean police officers can do more administrative tasks whilst outwith a police building meaning less time is spent within police stations.
- Officers are permitted to work from their mobile devices in public places – this is also a chance for both members of the public and police officers to engage.
- Officers will use their new mobile devices to remotely access police systems which will increase officers' time working with the public and on incidents - or conducting patrols and preventing crime.
- Mobile Working will help to increase officer visibility, engagement and accessibility to the public.
- Mobile Working is positively changing the operational policing approach in Scotland through the improved use of mobile technology and a change in culture which allows officers to work more effectively within communities.
